Carroll's Designs
On Professor Pete
Baron's Little Pile

The story of Peter Baron, the local physical culturist, going to the mainland to train "white hope" Palzer, was certainly manufactured out of the whole cloth.

Joe Carroll, the man who was mentioned as Palzer's probable manager, is none other than Joe Thomas, alias Joe Carroll, alias Joe Warner, who came to Honolulu by the S. S. Siberia last spring and who tried unsuccessfully to pull off one of the crooked deals for which he is famous, on the local public.

He met all comers on the mat at a local theater, including John Froelicher, and proved himself a most capable grappler. On the occasion when he was to have met Sailor Roberts, after he had disposed of Froelicher in jig time, $250 of his money was placed in a local saloon to bet on Roberts and efforts were made to get a couple of local men to cover the bet. At the last moment, however, Roberts, who knew nothing of the scheme, refused to go on with Thomas on account of stomach trouble, and Froelicher was substituted.

Thomas' evident intent was to allow Roberts to take the fall under the handicap conditions named at the time and to pocket the $250 belonging to the suckers who had bet on Thomas on the strength of his previous showing with Froelicher.

Shortly after that incident Thomas left town in a hurry, declaring that Honolulu possessed the bummiest crowd of sports that he had ever had the misfortune to come in contact with.

Joe Thomas, alias Joe Carroll, alias Joe Warner, is a member of a gang of crooks who have made thousands of dollars by traveling through the country, winning from good local men and then lying down to a dub when their money was bet right. At least one member of the outfit has done a long term in a state prison.

So much for Joe Carroll, would-be manager of Al Palzer.

Palzer was developed by Tom O'Rourke and there is not the slightest question in the world that he will manage the youthful prodigy. Why then Carroll's purported statement that he might undertake his management himself?

And even in the impossible event of his doing so, why should the services of Peter Baron, capable physical culturist as he undoubtedly is, be in demand as trainer? Baron is getting along in years, and while thoroughly versed in the training methods of twenty years ago, is hardly in touch with the developments in the art of conditioning pugilists which have occurred comparatively recently. Surely there can be no difficulty in obtaining a trainer for a prospective world's champion in the States, and the best in the business at that.

It is satisfactory to learn that Mr. Baron has benefited by the unpleasant experiences of his Seattle trip as "trainer" of Dr. Roller, another eminent fake wrestler. It is stated that he will not go to the mainland on any such errand unless he be given a three-year contract calling for $6 a day and a percentage of the gate receipts of the fights in which Palzer figures.

It looks very much as if Joe Thomas, alias Joe Carroll, alias Joe Warner, has designs on Professor Baron's little pile and is making preliminary overtures toward adding the same to his own ill-gotten bank account.

Maskee the facts of the case, however, it was a good story, and two of the local sporting editors swallowed the bait, hook, line and sinker.

INTEREST IN YACHT RACE GROWS

With invitations issued to all yacht clubs in the United States to enter boats in the transpacific race from San Pedro to Honolulu, which will be started from San Pedro on June 11, interest in the great event is growing apace.

The race is held under the combined auspices of the South Coast Yacht Club and the Hawaii Yacht Club, and is the longest ocean race conducted by any club in America. The big Eastern race is the annual race from New York to Bermuda, but this event is only little more than half the distance that the Honolulu racers will travel.

The race does not carry "red tape" restrictions that are usual with a number of yacht races. The restrictions—such as they are—are the most liberal that yachtsmen could ask for. The only matter of importance that will be followed to the letter is the limit placed on the water line. The water line clause makes it impossible for a yacht of less than 40 feet W. L. to enter. This is essential, as it would possibly entail considerable danger if smaller boats were allowed to make the voyage.

Any type of boat is allowed to enter and two valuable cups are the trophies for which the boats will strive. The entry list is not confined to this country alone, any yacht from any part of the world being eligible, provided it belongs to an organized yacht club. The rig used is optional with the commander and he can put on as much or as little canvas as he desires. The number of men in the crew is not limited to any definite number, and the yachts can be worked with either amateur or professional A. B.'s. The only motive power to be used, however, is sails. No auxiliary engines will be allowed.

Time allowance will be based on one-half hour per foot of the racing length for the entire distance. The racing length is calculated on the load water line length, plus one-half the length of the overhang.

These conditions are ideal for a long ocean race and should entice a large entry list, particularly from the yacht clubs of the Pacific Coast. In June, when the race is to be sailed, the winds are steady and strong, and gales are an unknown quantity.

OAHU TEAM WERE ALLEY VICTORS

The bowling match rolled last night on the Y. M. C. A. alleys in connection with the big tournament resulted in the Oahu team defeating the Players in three straight games.

C. Rantz got high score for the winning team with 193. Captain Howard with 164 was high average man.

For the losers Wood topped high score 182; and also high average for the match, 174.

GOOD PROSPECT

It looks as if Duke Kahanamoku Jr. would have a good benefit at the Athletic Park next Sunday. The card is an attractive one, the events have been well entered, and the cause is as worthy as could be desired.

"Soapbox" Barron announces that the events will commence at 1:30 p. m. and that the band will play.

General admission will be twenty-five cents, and admission to the grandstand, fifty cents.

The program, entries and officials are as follows:

All-Hawaii—Soares, c; Bushnell, p; Desha, 1b; Chillingworth, 2b; Markham, 3b; Ayau, ss; Rice, lf; D. Desha, cf; McIntyre, rf.

Jimmy Fitzgerald got several very friendly notices in the Coast papers. He intends to go to New York and issue a challenge to any runner in the world for a fifteen-mile run.

Laurence Redington, sporting editor of the Bulletin and golf expert, did the eighth hole of the County Club's links in a single stroke a day or so ago. A similar performance stands to the credit of only four others.

OLYMPICS MAY YET VISIT US

San Francisco Call: Unless his present plans fall through, Manager Henry Heilmuller will invade the Hawaiian Islands with his Olympic Club ball team some time between March 1 and June 15. Heilmuller is not yet certain of the date, but all the other details of the proposed invasion have been completed.

Hyman Raphael, the representative of Olympics in Honolulu, writes that there has been some trouble over the grounds, but adds that, if necessary, the fans of Honolulu will go to the bat and lease grounds. This is just how anxious they are to see the American tossers in action.

Heilmuller has secured the consent of the Olympic Club officials to take an all-star athletic team to the islands along with the ball players. Such men as Ralph Rose, Ollie Snedgar, Pete Gebhardt and Pomeroy, the great distance swimmer, probably will make the trip.
